Summer / Fall 2020 Style Report

Our Style Spotters select this season's most luscious new looks

Our 2020 Style Spotters were faced with an unprecedented challenge after Spring Market was canceled by the COVID-19 pandemic, requiring them to make their selections online. While we were saddened to see a season without Market, we are hopeful that the time people are spending at home will motivate them to jump start new interior projects.

As we shelter in place, nesting has become a huge trend. The Style Spotters agreed that people want their homes to be a quiet respite from the chaos of the world. Also in reaction to that chaos, sustainability and social responsibility are gaining importance, causing the maker culture and artisan furnishings trends to rise.

Vibrant colors and bold, large scale patterns were prevalent throughout spring's new introductions. Other pops of wow were seen in statement hardware on casegoods and sinuous curves on upholstery. The team also raved about seeing a resurgence in traditional designs with new interpretations of classical forms.

We applaud our 2020 Style Spotters for their selections and for supporting our industry during this pandemic. We are honored to lead this talented group and to share their fabulous finds with you!

Enjoy!

PILLOW TALK

COZY, PLUSH, ROUND, AND SOFT

While curvilinear furnishings have seen a renewed love affair over the last four years, this trend is evolving to include upholstery that evokes the idea of restfulness and overall softness. We desire plush surroundings and need them furnished with soft, round pieces upholstered in forgivable textures that impart warmth and cozy comfort. In essence, we want our homes to feel like a pillow. Furniture that epitomizes ease and a relaxed lifestyle is the ideal for the modern day family-friendly home. These soft and smart rounded forms will create a voluminous look and feel to achieve this extra comfortable cozy aesthetic.

GARDEN SCULPTURES

SCULPTURAL METAL FURNITURE

Some of my favorite pieces to layer into an interior space are actually inspired by garden sculptures and metal garden furniture more reminiscent of an English country manor or a Mediterranean villa. These pieces, some versatile enough for both indoor and outdoor use, will not only be sculpturally striking in your home, but will add a uniquely fresh and airy look to any home environment. So whether you opt for stylishly patinated vintage swirl-back garden chairs or a sculptural masterpiece like the futuristic Filinea armchair, with its seemingly impossible design of intersecting geometric lines, you will definitely be embarking on a new approach to home decor.
